NRL TOUCH PREMIERSHIP

In 2018 in a game-changing move for the sport, Touch Football Australia , in conjunction with their partner the National Rugby League, introduced an NRL Touch Premiership competition, with games to be played as curtain-raisers to NRL matches.

Australian Touch Football male and female players, who currently play in elite-level domestic and international competitions, originally represented teams aligned with six NRL clubs – three each from New South Wales and Queensland.

Men's game and a Women's game are played ahead of the main NRL event for seven rounds in total, commencing in May 2018. The games were broadcast nationally through a mix of live and delayed broadcasts. In 2019 two new clubs entered the competition and the games were conducted over a 25 week period.

Attached are the Head to Head results of these games and Data and Statistics relative to the event. If there are any errors or omissions please contact Touch Football Australia
