Western Australia Touch Association

The Garry Cullen Award

The award is named in honour of Garry Cullen who was the first Level 6 referee to come from Western Australia. He was instrumental in establishing the referee development programs in the state, whilst still an active referee then later as a coach and administrator. His personal success and efforts in developing touch football are celebrated with the recognition of this award

The winning referee may not be and are not required to be the best referee in the particular year, but they have substantially contributed to the sport both on and off the field and are considered leaders within and outside the referee group.
