The NSW Rugby League sends its deepest condolences to the family and friends of former Parramatta and Cronulla representative John McMartin who sadly passed away today.

McMartin played with the Eels from 1967 to 1975 before linking with the Sharks in 1976 where he finished his career in 1979. He represented NSW in 1975, also lining up for City Firsts in his final year at Parramatta. He was a life member of New South Wales Rugby League.

The twin brother of Mal, John was a highly consistent hooker and was an integral member of the Cronulla side which won its way through to the finals series in 1978.

He played in the 1978 drawn decider against Manly but was ruled out of the replay through injury.

“We are saddened to hear the news of the passing of a fantastic footballer and an even better man off the field,” NSWRL CEO David Trodden said.

“It’s always a dark day when we lose a member of the NSWRL family. As both a True Blue and Life Member of NSWRL, John made an enormous contribution to our organisation. His contribution to our tertiary competition is a particular legacy which he leaves. On behalf of everyone at the NSWRL I pass on my condolences to John’s family on their loss.”

Sad news to report the death of former Penrith Panthers, Balmain and Parramatta Eels centre Mal McMartin. He was 81. Brother John, who also played first grade, died in 2018.

Malcolm and John were twins, I went to school with both, Richmond High School. They were both very competitive with each other and often squabbled when playing. They Played for Richmond Firsts. Their father was a local ticketed referee. Richmond Club officials advised their father to split them and get them playing for different clubs to assist their development. It worked.
RIP Mal and John.

So sorry to hear about Mal - his memory will live with me.
Best memory is going to a gay bar in Hawaii on a Sunday morning whilst coming back from Vancouver.

There was Rod and Jenny Hawks, Lesley and I, Richard, Robbie and Mal.
All the guys bought "I FEAR NO BEER" t-shirts and turned our back to the camera, pretending to pee in a garden.

Another good memory was Mal organising a dinner at Glenelg SA during another GO festival - huge sea food platters - not good for me with my allergy to seafood and I had to excuse myself from the dinner. My seafood allergy really kicked in. Even the table water smelt and tasted like seafood.

Great memories. Such a sad day.

Greg, Lesley and Kylie.
